

Who administers Kaartdijin Noongar?

There are four administrators located at SWALSC that manage content, user groups and access to the database. This ensures that there is constant monitoring of access so that the workload of administering a potentially large database with many members is manageable. It is a requirement that these administrators respect confidentiality of the material provided.

Above, the 'Prohibited Areas' map, showing the area of Perth from which Noongars were excluded between 1927 and 1954. This map is based on the original map located in the Batty Library, and is reproduced courtesy of the Batty Library. The photograph of the children at Moore River is also reproduced courtesy of the Batty Library.

The front cover photograph shows the Doorum dancers (2008). The images in this pamphlet, along with many others, are stored at:
www.noongarculture.org.au

If you have any questions please contact Brendan on 1800 617 617 or 9358 7400 or visit the site at www.noongarculture.org.au

Above, hand stencils at Shark's Mouth, Kellerberin.

This project is jointly funded by SWALSC and the federal Department of Environment, Water, Heritage and the Arts

Australian Government
Department of the Environment,
Water, Heritage and the Arts

South West Aboriginal
Land & Sea Council

South West Aboriginal Land & Sea Council
Phone: (08) 9358 7400
Email: kaartdijin@noongar.org.au
Web: www.noongar.org.au
1490 Albany Highway, Cannington WA 6987

What is Kaartdijin Noongar?

For SWALSC Members

South West Aboriginal
Land & Sea Council

What is Kaartdijin Noongar?

Kaartdijin Noongar or Noongar Knowledge is a collection of information stored on a computer for the Noongar community to conserve, share, express and sustain various aspects of Noongar culture.

Children at the Moore River Settlement

How does it work?

Since Kaartdijin Noongar is electronic, Noongars can login to the internet using a computer from anywhere in the world to view audio, visual, and textual materials. It is also more easily updated and accessed than say a city museum or library.

Is Kaartdijin Noongar secure?

Yes, you must have a valid login password to access the site; no password no access. New users may register before they will be granted permission to access the information. In addition to this login, activity is constantly and closely monitored by four administrators.

Owl Rock in the Darling Range

How is information loaded on to the site?

Information may be uploaded by registered users. Rigorous permission processes apply to the donation of material to Kaartdijin Noongar. These processes are detailed in the Kaartdijin Noongar Permission Form. The Form allows donors to set the level of access to information provided so that it may remain secret or be shared with other Noongars or the general public.

Is cultural protocol observed?

Yes, detailed cultural protocols are in place that enable information to be shared on Kaartdijin Noongar with different levels of restrictions placed on them. In short, these restrictions can be made to apply to gender (male or female), to claim group area, or at the individual level. Sorry business is observed for a period of one year.

Young Greencorps students learning about Noongar heritage at Mogumber from Elder Jenny Mogridge

Who manages Kaartdijin Noongar?

This project is managed by SWALSC and financed by SWALSC and the Department of Environment, Water, Heritage and the Arts. The project manager is Brendan Moore so it's Noongar owned and operated and independent of government.